The 1937 BRONZE BOOK

COLLEGE
EDMOND, OKLAHOMA

FOREWORD

In this silver anniversary edition of the Bronze Book you will find an insight into the varied activities of the student life at Central. This book has for twenty-five years served as the recorder of our educational progress. The happy hours of our student days and the panorama of events are united in these pages to form the epitome of our college life.

As the years separate us and life finds for us new stations we can assemble for a fond and quiet period of reverie by turning the pages of this book.

DEDICATION

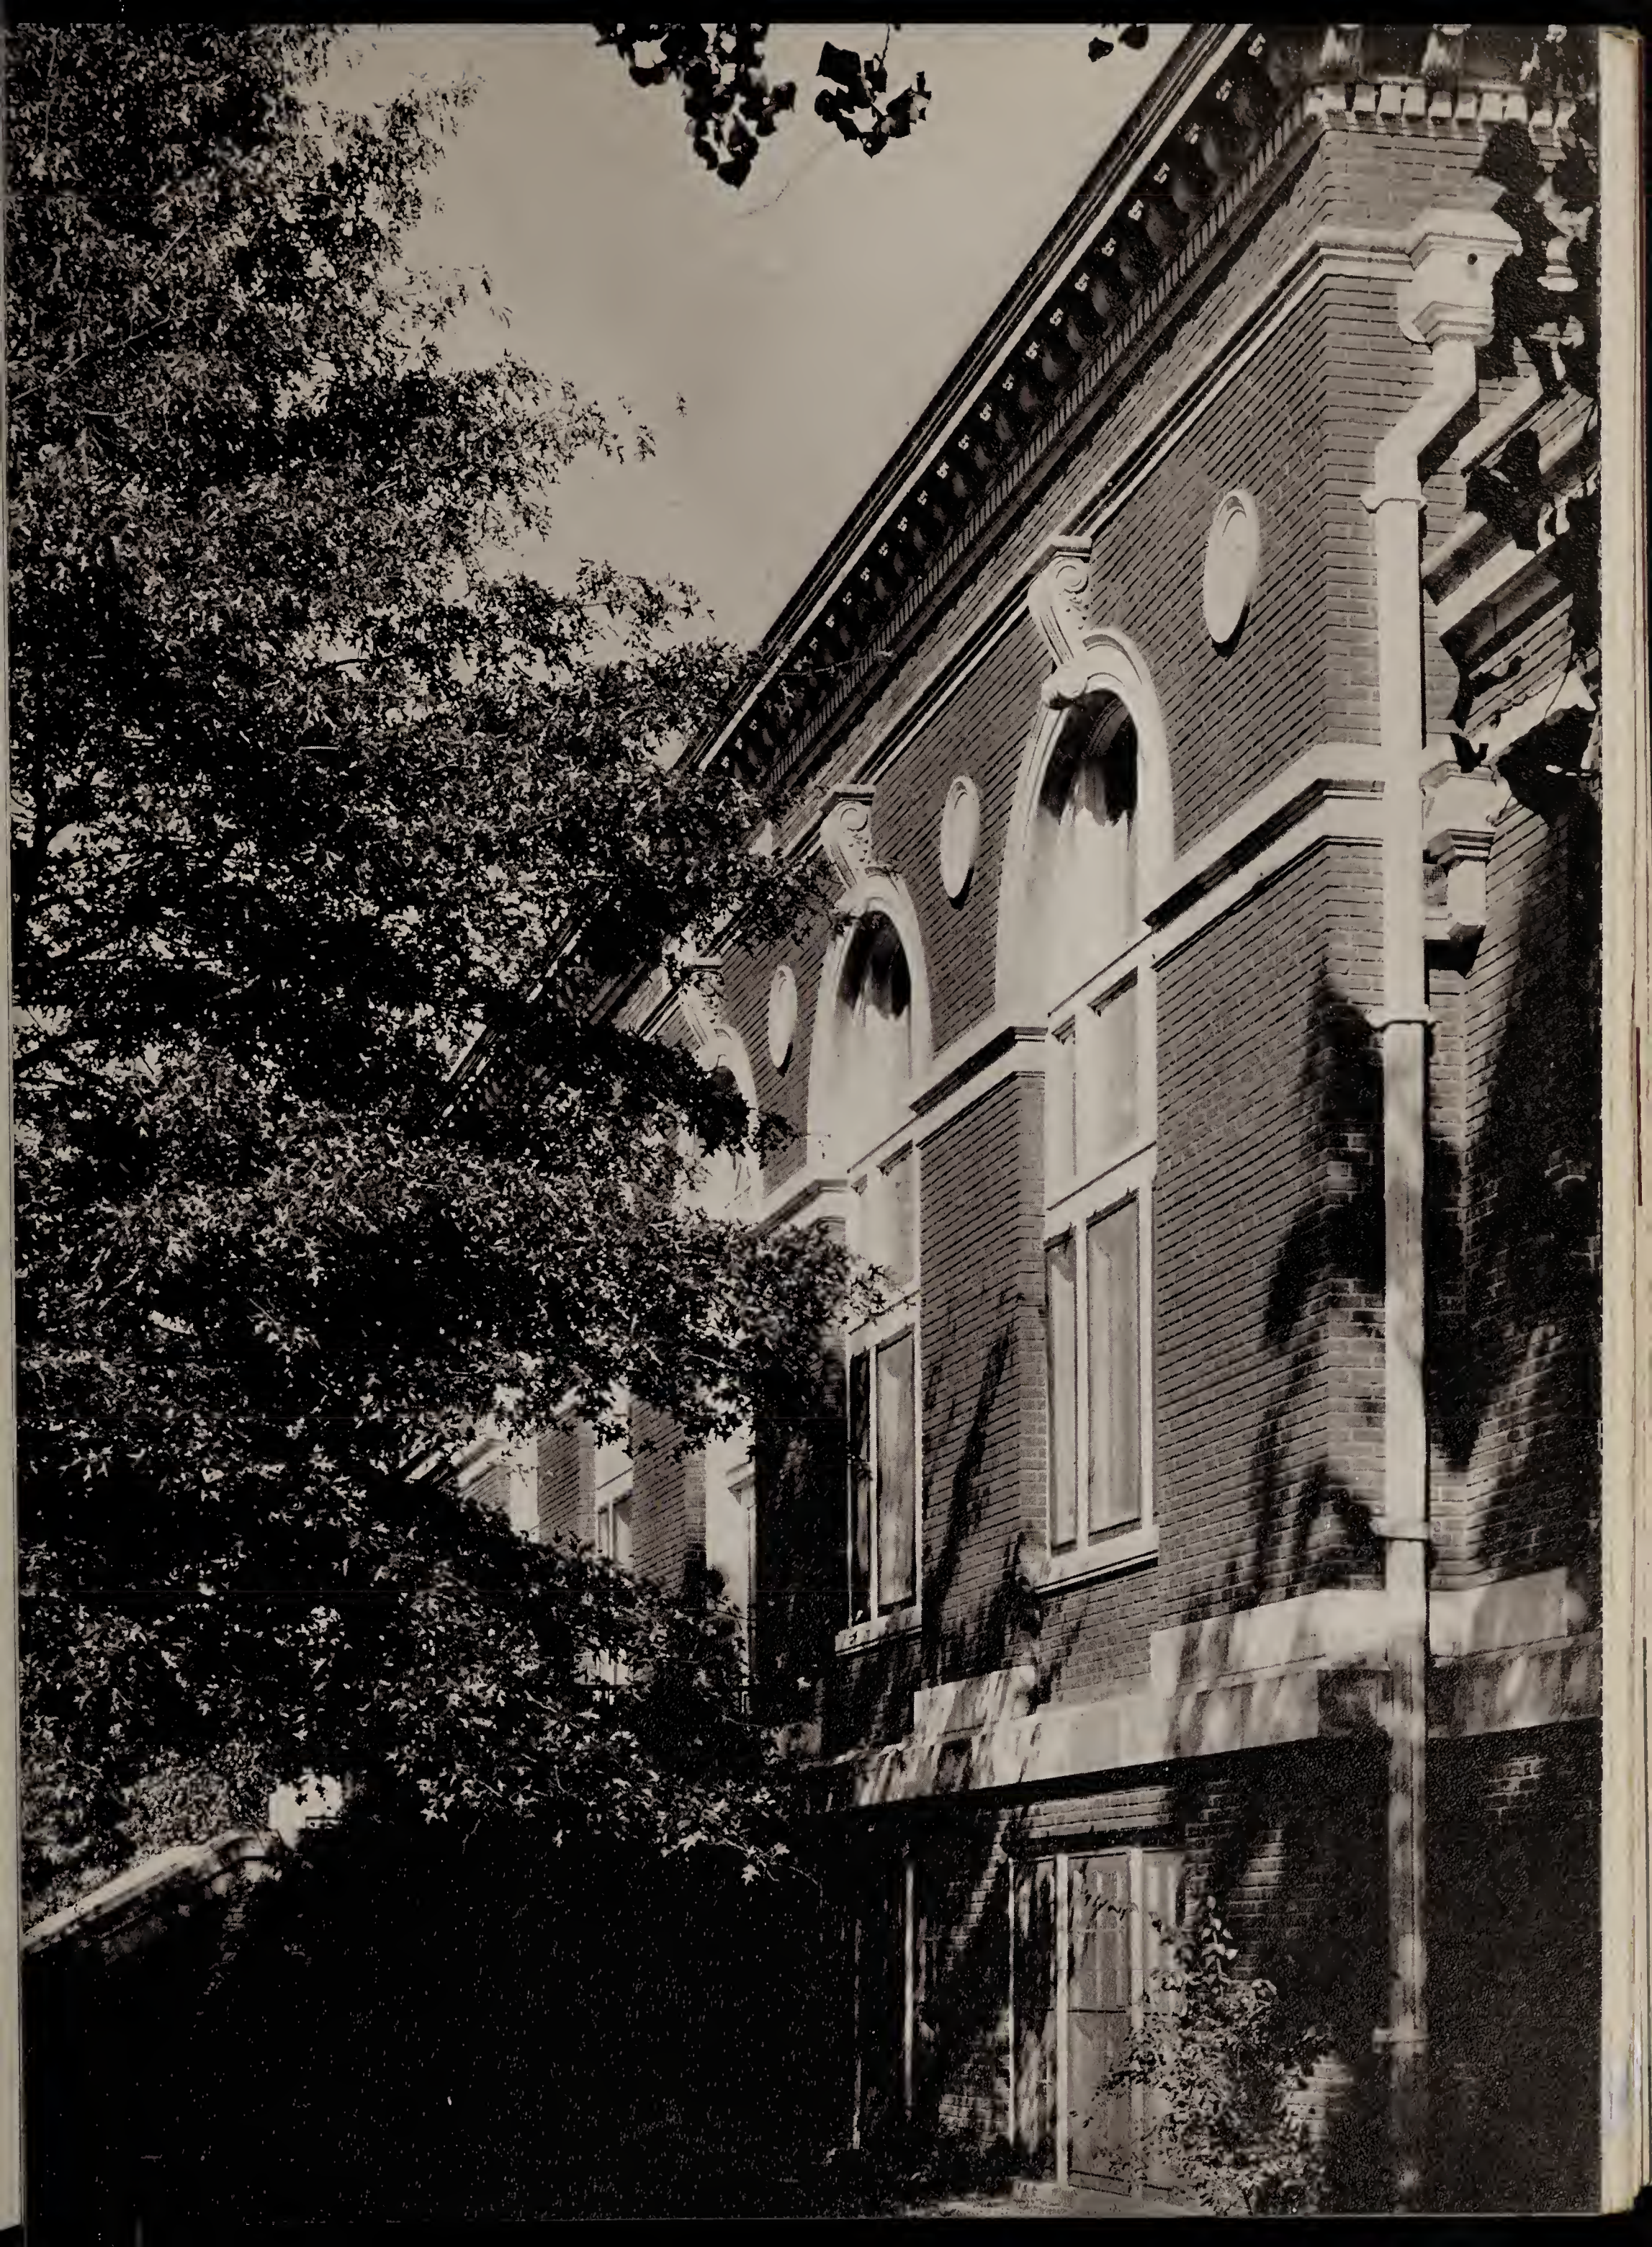

It is peculiarly in keeping with the theme and the Motif of the Bronze Book of 1937, that this book, commemorating its 25th Anniversary, should be dedicated to the Class of 1913, and to the editors and staff of the Bronze Book of that year—who, building better than they knew, originated the Book, that, through the years, has become an institution at Central. With this thought in mind, it is only fitting that this 1937 Yearbook, symbolic of Progress, should be dedicated to this class, Therefore, in grateful remembrance, to the class of 1913—This Book.

Governor Ernest W. Marland

Ernest W. Marland was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania in 1874 and received his education from the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Michigan. Since coming to Oklahoma in 1908, he has done much to promote education and has been responsible for the interest in beautifying the state. It was through his efforts that the statue to the Pioneer Woman was erected in Ponca City.

In 1932, Mr. Marland was elected from the Eighth District to the House of Representatives, of the United States Congress and served in this capacity for one term.

In November, 1934 he was elected governor of the State of Oklahoma and took over the reins of government in January, 1935.

The President's Greeting

Realizing that the words and pictures of this volume will be a continuing message through many years, I welcome the opportunity to write a personal word of greeting to the students, faculty and friends of Central State Teachers College of the year 1936-1937.

The scenes and events depicted herein are coated over with the spirit and romance of youth. Many of the acquaintances formed in college days will ripen into friendship; and many of the friendships recorded within these pages will be strengthened and confirmed with the passing years. May the images and memories brought to mind by each feature of this beautiful momento of college days be the dearest and most lasting of your lives.

I speak for every member of the faculty and student body in expressing our sincere appreciation to the editors, the business managers and the sponsors of the Bronze Book of 1937 for their achievement in producing this vivid record of a happy and successful year of corporate living and learning.

Faithfully yours,
JOHN MOSELEY

Theme of the 1937 Bronze Book

The first issue of the Bronze Book was put out by the class of 1913. In looking over Volume I we cannot help but note the changes that have taken place in the college during those years. It has changed from a Normal School issuing only a life certificate to a fully accredited four year college, granting a Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts degree, with a modern plant of thirteen buildings.

We can appreciate the enormous amount of work done by this pioneer Bronze Book staff. Their ideal was to make this book an institution of service in the life of Central, by recording its history and traditions. It has done this. Today we look back over twenty-five years of continuous publication and thank this historical senior class for its first book.

Dean of Administration

CLIFF R. OTTO

B. A. Degree from University of Oklahoma.

M. S. degree from University of Oklahoma.

Member of American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Fellow of the Oklahoma Academy of Science.

The office of Dean of Administration of Central Teachers College was created by President Moseley. It is the duty of this office to aid the president in planning and carrying on the policies of the Administration. Mr. Otto is recognized as the friend of the student body and deeply interested in the welfare of the institution. To him should be given credit for the location and efficient planning of the two handsome residence halls on our campus.

Professor Otto also serves as head of the Department of Chemistry and Biology. The Science Department of Central State Teachers College has for its aim the giving of service to the educational program of Oklahoma. To the student who expects to use science professionally, this department gives a thorough training in the basic fundamentals of the recognized sciences.

Other professors of the Department of Chemistry and Biology are: Charles N. Ott, Ph. D.; Roy W. Jones, M. S.; G. Ethel Derrick, Ph. D.

Dean of Men

LLOYD WAYNE JOHNSON

B. A. from Central State Teachers College.

M. A. from the University of Oklahoma.

Pi Mu Epsilon

Member of the Mathematical Association of America, the American Mathematical Society and the Oklahoma Academy of Science.

Dean Johnson is looked upon by the men of the college as their friendly advisor. Whatever the difficulty that brings them to the office, from him the men always receive the advice they seek, given in a straightforward and kindly manner. Through personal contact with the students, and a sympathetic understanding of their interests and problems, Dean Johnson builds up the standards of life on the campus.

Besides serving as Dean of Men, Mr. Johnson is an associate professor of Mathematics at Central. He has presented original work in pure geometry before the Oklahoma Section of the American Mathematical Association. Dean Johnson is also Chairman of the Oklahoma Section of the Mathematical Association of America.

Dean of Women

DOROTHEA MEAGHER

B. A. from Central State Teachers College.

M. A. from the University of Oklahoma.

Pi Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta Pi.

Delta Kappa Gamma.

American Association of University Women.

Dean Meagher has won nothing but hearty approbation for her handling of every problem of great or small importance.

To her may come the working girl with her problem of little time and less money. From the depths of experience with like cases the kindly Dean advises the girl in the proper course of procedure.

The mother and father with a backward, or perhaps, wayward daughter find within the power of the Dean of Women the ability to so influence the girl as to make from her the admirable type of young American womanhood present in the college today.

The office provides to every girl in the college that source of counsel and friendship so often lacking in an educational institution. It is an indispensable capacity, making as it does for the betterment of the social contacts and life of the college.

Dean Meagher fully deserves the laudations poured upon her by admiring friends, faculty members, and students.

Department of Teacher Training

JOHN T. BUTCHER

B. A. from the University of Kansas.

M. A. from the University of Oklahoma.

Professor Butcher has served as director of the Training School for the past nine years.

The work shop of Central State Teachers College is centered in the Training School. Three hundred fifty pupils representing all grades are enrolled. The grade pupils are taught by experienced teachers, and the high school classes are taught by the regular college faculty. Each college teacher is a potential supervisor. This greatly increases our facilities for training and establishing a bond of unity between the college and training school. The objective of the training department is to offer opportunity for observation and participation in real teaching situations under strict supervision of experienced critic teachers.

Critic teachers are: Ruth Coyner, Ph. D., Harriet Seay Binion, M. A., Winifred E. Stayton, M. A., Virginia Howard, M. A., Cora Stroud, M. A., Dorothea Meagher, M. A., Beulah Clark, M. A., and Bessie Lee Freeman, M. A.

Department of Education

L. B. RAY

B. A. from the Central State Normal of Indiana.

B. A. from the University of Indiana.

M. A. from George Peabody College for Teachers.

He has served in this institution twenty years as an instructor in education, Director of the Training School, and Head of the Department of Education.

The chief objective of the Department of Education at Central is the training of teachers in the public schools of the state. It is assumed that true education is growth and development involving activity on the part of the learner, following the principle that we learn to do by doing. The college courses are designed to prepare teachers for all school positions from the kindergarten to the superintendency of schools.

Through surveys and directed research, the department furnishes assistance to the leaders of many of the schools of the state. To serve the students in the best possible manner the school uses methods of teaching, research, and experiments that are designed to keep the faculty members and student body in close touch with the economic, social, and political problems of the state and nation.

The School of Education provides training for the work of administration of school systems and numbers among its alumni many successful superintendents of schools in all parts of Oklahoma.

Department of English

FRANCIS CORAM OAKES

B. A. from the University of Oklahoma.

M. A. from the University of Chicago.

Professor Oakes has done extensive work in the German, French, and Spanish literatures; and for some years was head of the Department of Modern Languages. Professor Oakes has been a member of Central's faculty since September 13, 1903. He organized the Oklahoma Council of Teachers in English in 1913 and was President of that organization for three years. He served as unofficial acting-President of Central State Teachers College during the summer of 1918.

The department of English Language and Literature is organized under the following divisions: Composition and Linguistics, English and German Literature, Speech, and Journalism. A major may be pursued in Literature and Linguistics, and in Speech. Some courses are offered for graduate standing. Two years of work are offered in Speech, and one year in Journalism. The department is in charge of publishing the Vista and in supervising the annual Speech Tournament.

Other faculty members of the English Department are: Mollie Ruth Bottoms, M. A.; Grady C. Watkins, M. A.; Willa Claire Cox, M. A.; Fred L. Fordice, Ed. D.; Lucille McGuire, B. F. A., and Hugh N. Comfort, M. A.

Department of Social Science

EMMA ESTILL HARBOUR

B. A. from Oklahoma College for Women.

M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from University of Oklahoma.

Diploma in Expression from American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

Alpha Phi.

Delta Kappa Gamma.

Pi Gamma Mu.

Alpha Psi Omega.

Vice-President of the State Historical Society

American Academy of Political Science.

Member of American Legion.

In Oklahoma's Who's Who and Who's Who in American Education.

Dr. Harbour entered the training profession in 1912 as a faculty member of Central State Teachers College, and since then has devoted her untiring efforts to building up the Social Science Department. She has contributed articles to many educational magazines.

The department offers work in History, Government, Geography, Economics, and Sociology. With greater stress being placed upon the Social Sciences by the National Government, this field promises to become more important than ever before. It is the purpose of the department, not only to offer courses for the student majoring in this field, but also to offer a variety of elective courses that will enable other students to get a broad understanding of the social conditions of the past and to keep up with, and better interpret our present fast changing civilization.

Members of the Social Science Department are: Loren H. Brown, Ph. D.; Lucy Jeston Hampton, M. A.; Guy A. Rankin, M. A.; Leita Davis, M. A.; and Edward E. Keso, M. A., Rhoda Permenter, M. A., Myrtle Shelby, B. A.

Department of Ancient Languages

JESSIE D. NEWBY

B. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

M. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

American Classical League.

American Philological Association.

American Numismatic Society.

Phi Beta Kappa.

Kappa Delta Pi.

Delta Kappa Gamma.

Professor Newby has contributed papers to the publications and programs of most of these organizations. For many years she has been state chairman of the American Classical League. She is listed in "Who's Who among American Women."

In this department of Latin courses there are a number which may be taken by anyone interested in such things as the dress, meals, and amusements of the Romans; Roman Coins; and the ruins and monuments of ancient Rome.

The other courses are designed for two classes of students: those who desire to pursue the subject for general education purposes; those who desire to become teachers of Latin.

There is a Latin Club called the Olympian Council. The club meets four times each semester and offers an opportunity for friendship and better acquaintances with all who are taking or who have had Latin.

The department is equipped with a laboratory and material for projects and poster work. A screen, stereopticon and slides are used frequently.

Lowell Dunham, B. A., M. A., is ably substituting in this Department during the year 1936-1937 while Miss Newby is completing her Doctorate at the University of Iowa.

Department of Foreign Language

GUY CURTIS CHAMBERS

B. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

M. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

Interpreter to the Modern Language and School Review Magazines during the World War.

The Department of Modern Languages consisting of French, Spanish, and German, endeavors to give the student a practical working knowledge of the language as well as something of the history and the language of the people whose language he is studying.

One of Central's academic clubs is the French club, which presents an annual French program, which this year consisted of several one-act plays. Clubs have also been organized in German and Spanish. There has been established correspondence between our students of French and German who are studying English in France and Germany. Seminar courses have been added so that students may continue their modern language courses indefinitely after completing the courses in the catalog.

Other faculty members of the Modern Language Department are: Dwight M. Davis, M. A., Lowell Dunham, M. A., and Hugh Comfort, M. A.

Department of Physics

ERNEST LELAND HOWELL

B. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

Phi Gamma Delta.

Sigma Pi Sigma.

Educational Division of the American Chemical Association.

Professor Ernest Howell is now serving his eighteenth year as chairman of the Department of Physics.

The Department of Physics of Central offers fifteen two-hour courses of elementary physics and eight hours in household physics, radio and photography, with advanced courses offered in mechanics, heat, electricity, and the teaching of physics.

These physics courses are designed to meet two needs: first, to fulfill the requirements for entrance into medical schools and engineering, and second, to give the student a teaching knowledge of physics leading to the B. S. degree. It is also the aim of the department to stimulate an interest in scientific knowledge and research.

Department of Mathematics

EDGAR WAX

B. A. from the University of Oklahoma.

M. A. from the University of Oklahoma.

Professor Wax has served as Principal of the high school at Snyder and Pryor, and as Superintendent of the Goteba school system. From December, 1917 to February, 1919, he was in the Navy stationed at Harvard University in Radio School and Officers Naval Ensign School. He became a member of the faculty of the Central State Teachers College in the summer of 1919.

The Department of Mathematics offers courses that will be of value to three different types of students. The first group consists of those who need mathematics in their general scheme of education. The second group includes the students who wish to prepare themselves to be teachers of mathematics in a further study of science, engineering, and those subjects which require the use of mathematics as a tool.

The enrollment in the department has greatly increased; at the present time about one-third of the entire student body is enrolled in some type of mathematics; and the number of courses offered is constantly being increased to meet the demands.

Department of Home Economics

OLIVE B. THOMAS

B. S. degree from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College.

M. A. degree from Columbia University.

Phi Kappa Phi.

Professor Olive B. Thomas became Professor of Domestic Art in Central State Teachers College in 1916, and has served as the Chairman of the department since 1920.

The ultimate aid of the Department of Home Economics is to educate for better home making and inevitably for better "home living."

The school of home economics has considered the needs of the girls to such an extent that opportunity for training is offered along almost every line which will be of interest to the professional woman as well as the homemaker. The curriculum is no longer filled with mere practice work in cooking and sewing, as has heretofore been the prevailing idea. Rather it attempts to point the way to making healthy, happy, well groomed, normal individuals, who are prepared to meet life situations. It attempts to create an understanding of the economic, social, and moral demands which are made of women, whether they serve in the capacity of the homemaker or the professional type.

The other member of the department is Starr Otto Doyel.

Department of Agriculture

FRED H. IVES

B. A. degree from Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College.

M. S. degree from Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College.

Professor Ives was the first agent in Agriculture 4-H Club work in the state. He was County Agent in Muskogee and Wagoner County four years and served as Assistant State Agent. He spent several years doing vocational work in the Broken Arrow High School. At present he is Head of the Agricultural Department.

The Department of Agriculture is dedicated to the agricultural training of the teachers of Oklahoma, in order that the thousands of our boys and girls whose life work will be in contact with the farm, will be more efficiently taught.

Department of Music

J. FORREST WEST

B. F. A. degree in Public School Music
from University of Oklahoma

B. F. A. degree in Voice from University of Oklahoma.

Professor West has coached voice with Carlo Edwards of the Metropolitan Opera Company. He has studied for the past two summers with the world's famous teacher and composer, Frank La Forge.

The Music Department is designed to offer students a thorough and complete training in applied and theoretical branches of music. Through this teaching a greater appreciation of the beauty of music is offered to the students.

Throughout the year recitals are given in which both the students and faculty participate. Each year the department presents an operetta or an oratorio which gives the students experience and training invaluable. The annual Christmas chorus concert and the band and orchestra concerts are looked-for events of the year.

Other members of the Music Department are J. J. Gecks, M. A., director of the band and wind instruments, Douglas Johnston, Jr., director of orchestra and instructor of string instruments, and Mary Eula Wray, B. A.

Department of Art

ANITA HOWARD

B. F. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

Graduate work at Harvard University, the Art Institute of Chicago and the Broadmoor Art Academy of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Art history affords a knowledge and enjoyment of works of art and a deeper appreciation of the master workmanship of the artists. It instills an appreciation and a respect for the accomplishments of all people. It develops a sympathetic insight into masterly work.

Education has no more serious responsibility than making an adequate provision for enjoyment of recreative leisure. The art courses provide the joy one derives from expression and creating. The study of design creates habits of orderliness, and its principles possess the foundation for well-ordered balanced living.

T. A. Reeves, B. A., is assistant in this department.

Department of Commerce

EARL CLEVINGER

B. S. degree from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College.

M. S. degree from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Graduate work in the University of Denver, Teachers College of Columbia University, and New York University.

Professor Clevenger has contributed articles to the Journal of Business Education, the Business Education World, the Ball State Commerce Journal, the Gregg Writer, the Balance Sheet, and numerous other publications. He has published a series of shorthand tests and has contributed chapters to several commerce textbooks. His text in Accounting is now used in the beginning Accounting course in the college.

The Commerce Department of Central State Teachers College has shown a phenomenal growth under Mr. Clevenger's able direction. It is the purpose of this department to prepare teachers who can go out over the state and help students develop a better understanding of the principles of business as applied to everyday life.

Department of Industrial Arts

VAN M. THORNTON

B. S. degree from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College.

M. S. degree from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Professor Thornton has been in the teaching profession for thirteen years. He became Chairman of the Industrial Arts Department in the summer of 1931.

The Department of Industrial Arts has three objectives: first to train industrial art teachers for the high schools of Oklahoma; second, to give training to those who do not desire to specialize in the department an opportunity to become acquainted with the field and to get a working knowledge of materials and tools; third, to give the student a knowledge of materials and finishing in order that he may select and buy more intelligently.

The Department offers courses in woodwork, mechanics of the household, carpentry, wood finishing, forging, radio construction, oxyacetylene welding, industrial arts and administration of vocational education.

Department of Physical Education for Men

CLAUDE E. REEDS

B. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

Mr. Reeds has served five years as an assistant coach in the University of Oklahoma, three years as assistant coach in the Colorado Agricultural College, two years as football coach in West Texas, and one year as coach in Southwestern State Teachers College.

How well he has fulfilled his position can be judged by the steady advancement of the college teams in every sport.

The Department of Physical Education for Men presents a well-balanced program of Intra-Mural athletic activities for all students of the college.

Central is a member of the Oklahoma Inter-Collegiate Athletic Conference. The various teams meet and compete against those of other colleges and universities of other conferences. Central is represented in Inter-Collegiate Athletics by football, basketball, baseball, track, wrestling, cross-country and tennis teams.

Assistants in this department are: Eugene Smith, B. S., Dale Hamilton, B. S., and Odus Morgan, M. S.

Department of Physical Education for Women

EMMA W. PLUNKETT

B. S. degree from George Peabody College.

M. S. degree from Oklahoma A. and M. College.

Kappa Delta Pi.

Phi Kappa Phi.

Delta Psi Kappa.

Miss Plunkett served as an instructor two years in George Peabody College and eight years in the school system of Augusta, Georgia; and has taught in summer camps and in the Y. W. C. A. in Georgia and Tennessee.

Under Miss Plunkett's able direction, the Physical Education Department for Women promotes such athletic activities for all girls as best meet their needs. It promotes competition that stresses enjoyment of sport and development of good sportsmanship and character training of students to be "in the game—not onlookers." The contents of the program are classified as follows: natural activities of daily life, free play and games, athletics and sports, dramatic expression (dancing, festivals, pageants), social service, self-testing activities, individual corrective exercises, and recreational activities. The slogan of the department is "An activity for every girl and every girl in an activity."

Registrar

ANDREW G. HITCHCOCK

B. Pd. degree from Michigan State Normal College.

B. S. degree from University of Oklahoma.

M. S. degree from University of Oklahoma.

Alpha Alpha Chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa.

Mr. Hitchcock serves as registrar of Central State Teachers College and is head of the Placement Bureau. The responsibility of registration, classification, certification of degrees and certificates, and the recording of college records enters in the office of the registrar. A permanent record is kept here of more than 45,000 students who have at some time attended Central State Teachers College.

Librarian

LYNDAL SWOFFORD

B. A. degree from University of Oklahoma.

B. S. degree in Library Science from University of Illinois.

Kappa Delta Pi

Delta Psi Kappa

Sigma Tau Delta.

Member of American Library Association and Oklahoma Library Association.

The aim of Central State Teachers College Library is to be "the central laboratory of culture, an intellectual community center for students and faculty." Dr. Silas Evans, who thus defines a college library, says also that a library is as large as the number of good books used per student. With this purpose in view of measuring the size of the library by its use, Central State Teachers College has for several years kept a careful record of the daily circulation and attendance. The interesting statistics sheet compiled from these records shows that a surprisingly large percent of Central's student body makes good use of the library.

That every teacher is something of a librarian is an idea now being emphasized in many schools, which seems particularly applicable to a teachers college. Every teacher should teach appreciation for books and libraries every day in every class—not through technical information of library methods, but through love and knowledge of books. The library staff and the faculty are trying to foster this idea among prospective teachers enrolled at Central.

Department of Correspondence

EDNA JONES

B. S. from Central State Teachers College.

M. A. degree from Oklahoma University.

Alumni Secretary 1936-1937.

She taught Penmanship eight and one-half years at Central when Penmanship was a required course. She returned to Central in 1935 and teaches some courses in English and Penmanship and has charge of the Correspondence Department. Miss Jones organized the Quill Club in 1917 and is now sponsor of the club.

It is the aim of Central State Teachers College to aid the teachers of the state in getting the best education possible. Through the Correspondence Department the college is reaching out a helping hand to every one who may desire an education and is unable to attend college. It enables the teacher who is out in the field to continue his work toward a degree.

Department of Health

DR. L. E. CRICK

B. A. Southwestern College, Winfield,
Kansas.

B. S. Oklahoma University.

M. D. Oklahoma University School of Medicine.

Dr. L. E. Crick was the official physician of the University Tours in 1934; residence physician, Providence Hospital, Detroit, Michigan, for two years; served as assistant physician to Dr. Keene for the Detroit Tigers, American League baseball club, and Lions professional football team. His work as school physician has proved its merit.

Many will remember the specially prepared bulletin listing methods of prevention at the time this winter, when flu and common colds were so prevalent among students and faculty members. His work with the athletic squads has been greatly responsible for the general good condition of the teams.

Mrs. Lula Barber is the nurse in Central's Health Department.

Administrative Offices

CHARLES M. JENKINS

Mr. Jenkins holds the Ph. G. degree from Vanderbilt. He serves in this institution as Financial Secretary, Director of Extension, and has charge of all financial responsibilities of the Correspondence Department.

FRANK BATEMAN

Mr. Bateman holds the B. S. degree from the Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College, and upon graduation was awarded a trophy for being the best all-around student. He is Secretary-Treasurer of the Delta Sigma Alumni Corporation.

Mr. Bateman is secretary to the President of Central State Teachers College, and is Superintendent of the Grounds and Buildings.

Faculty of Central State Teachers College

Murdaugh Hall was named in honor of Dr. Edmund D. Murdaugh, president of Central State Teachers College from 1895 to 1901.

This fine, modernistic structure assumed its role as the campus social center immediately upon its completion.

Its design, construction, and accommodations give it a place as one of the finest buildings of its type in the Southwest.

MYRTLE W. SELBY

A. B. degree from Central State Teachers College.

The young men of Thatcher Hall are fortunate in having as their hostess Myrtle W. Shelby, an alumna of Central.

Richard Thatcher, the man in whose honor the men's dormitory at Central is named, was the first president of Central Normal School from 1891 to 1893.

This fine new structure is equipped to furnish quarters for study and many forms of recreation or entertainment.

In Appreciation

The Senior Class of 1937 takes this opportunity to express a belated word of thanks to those who have been our friends during the years that we have been at Central: To each member of the Faculty who has labored with and for us, to the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women who have counseled and advised with us, to the Dean of Administration for his timely advice and his unfailing sense of humor in seeing us over some of the rough spots, to the Registrar for his help in arranging our schedules, to our Sponsors for their time and attention, and especially to the President for his many courtesies and favors, are we especially grateful.

Our stay at Central has been pleasant. We are but a few of the many who have been benefited by Central and it is our hope and our ambition that we may go out over the State and the Nation and accomplish much, so that we may bring additional fame and recognition to the school that has done so much for us.

Lloyd Trogdon, President.

Advisers

Dr. Fred McCarrel and Dr. Emma Estill Harbour, through long experience in guiding Senior Classes at Central, have endeared themselves to all classes and especially to this class of 1937. At the first class meeting in the fall of 1936, Dr. McCarrel went on record as being for us to the extent of seeing that we made our grades, lending us money (from the Senior Loan Fund), straightening out our "affairs of the heart" and keeping the Deans in their places, and, on different occasions we have found that he meant just that. Dr. Harbour with her announced intention to look out for us, has been on the job and it is easy to understand her wide popularity over the State when we remember the time, the thought and the effort that she has put in to make our Senior year a profitable and a happy one.

And so, to Dr. McCarrell and to Dr. Harbour, we of the Senior Class of 1937, take this means of thanking you for the many favors you have shown us, the nice things you have done for us and the time and effort that you have spent upon us.

Senior Class Officers

LLOYD TROGDON	-----	President
LEE MURPHY	-----	Vice President
MARY FRANCES MURRY	-----	Secretary
ROBERTA THOMAS	-----	Treasurer
RUTH ALLEN	-----	Corresponding Secretary

Lloyd Trogdon, President of the Class of 1937, has served the class well and faithfully. Lee Murphy, Vice-President, in addition to his many other interests, can always be depended upon when there is need of his time and attention. Roberta Thomas and Mary Frances Murry have given time and effort to the Bronze Book as well as efficiently handling the finances of the Senior Class. Ruth Allen, beauty queen, and Corresponding Secretary has also been a valuable asset to the Class of 1937.

Senior Class Party

The big Yuletide event of the year was the annual Christmas party given by the Seniors' "Pop" and "Mom," Dr. McCarrel and Dr. Harbour in Pioneer Hall on December 15.

Reta Ruth Von Thurn played the piano while the group sang many popular songs; Dr. McCarrel slipped in some double barrel words to reduce the two lines in the spelling bee to a circle of bank corner problem solvers; Bob Trogdon, class prexy, played the roll of Santa and slipped down the clothes chute with a stick of candy. As the Deans began to eye the clock, the room became filled with music and a few of the agile ones swung out on a few rag time tunes. The party ended and the borrowed decorations were returned.

Central has always been noted for the high type of its student body and we feel that the classes this year will go out over the state and add to the good name and high standing of the institution. A loyal industrious student body, high in scholarship, holding its own among other institutions in Athletics, Music, Dramatics, and all competitive lines, the classes this year are no exception to the high rating and good name which the institution has had through the years.

ARENA the oldest debating Club in the State, about 1913.

MEMORIALS

Shakespeare, the oldest girls club in the
State, in 1937.

Club Supervisors

EDWARD KESO

GUY RANKIN

The efficient functioning of the Clubs, both Departmental and Social, at Central State Teachers College can be directly traced to their handling by Professor Edward Keso, ably assisted by Professor Guy Rankin. Mr. Keso was appointed to the position of Club Supervisor upon the death of Professor Otto Jeffries in 1930 and has held the position continuously since that time.

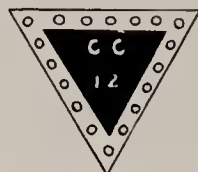

Mr. Rankin was chosen to assist Mr. Keso in 1931 and he also, has served in that capacity continuously. The remarkable popularity of these two men is a determining factor in these extra-curricular activities which play such an important part in the College life.

Dedication

The Criterion Club, organized during the school year of 1911-1912, for the purpose of studying the Modern Drama, is this year celebrating its Twenty-fifth Anniversary as one of the major clubs of Central.

It is with genuine pleasure that the members of the Bronze Book staff join in congratulating the Criteria for their twenty-five years of activity by dedicating the Club Section of the 1937 Bronze Book to the Criterion Club.

This is the 25th Anniversary of the Criterion Club, and throughout the year the idea of a Silver Jubilee has been carried out. Early in the Fall each member was given a ribbon to wear announcing this fact, and the motif has been predominant at all of the Club Parties.

The organization was founded in 1912 for the purpose of studying modern drama. This year the annual production was "Your Uncle Dudley."

The Criterion Club is composed of some of the most popular and talented girls on the campus. During this year the organization had among its members the Carnival Queen, the Band Queen, and the Band Major.

Triumvirate Club

The first Triumvirate Club was organized as a debating club in the spring of 1914 by Dr. Emma Estill-Harbour. Its purpose is three-fold; literary, scholastic, and social.

Besides the regular school activities in which the club is prominent, the members sponsor numerous social functions including a rush tea, homecoming supper, Christmas party, banquet for pledges and new members, a tea honoring graduating members, and inter-club parties.

The Triumvirate Club ranks high scholastically, having won most of the awards offered to the clubs by the school for scholarship. A scholarship average of "B", as well as participation in school activities, is required for membership in the club.

The Arena Club, one of the oldest debating clubs in Oklahoma, was organized from the R. A. K. Society, under the Arena Constitution of 1908.

The Arena debating Club is known for its development of young men at Central College. They are given valuable training in public speaking and debating.

The Arena Club is proud of the fact that four class presidents for this year have been Arena Members.

The club attempts to present during the year, a varied program which is climaxed with "Arena Week" in the first part of April, at which time the annual "Nert Fest" and "Barn Dance" are given.

The Senate Club is one of the oldest organizations on the campus. It is rightly proud of the fact that it was one of Central's pioneers in the field of forensics, and that the club is still very active along this line. Many of the members are now on the varsity debate squad and a host of alumni members are prominent in state and national affairs.

Along with the practice in debate the Senators are drilled in parliamentary law and in public speaking.

The Tsa Mo Ga Club was organized in 1917 by Professor W. L. Ford, with Miss Ruby Canton, faculty advisor. The chief aim was and is to cherish the Arts and Treasures of the great race that is passing.

The members desire to learn more of the lives, customs and traditions of the vanishing American Indian.

The Olympian Council was organized in 1931 with Miss Jessie D. Newby as sponsor, and has as its purpose the building of friendship among those interested in the language, customs and art of the Romans. The club annually publishes the pamphlet ACTA LATINA, and awards an honor medal to the outstanding Latin Major. Mr. Lowell Dunham assumed the duties of sponsor in 1936, when Miss Newby left for study on her doctor's degree.

The Blue Curtain Players Club was founded in the spring of 1932 to satisfy a need for an organization primarily interested in drama and its production. Tryouts for membership are held at the beginning of each semester and immediately before the two annual plays. The three departments into which the club is divided are stage craft, playwriting, and acting. This year, under the sympathetic direction of Miss Lucille McGuire, sponsor, the Blue Curtain Players presented a three-act drama, "Mrs. Moonlight" which was very well received by students and faculty members. This period fantasy was played against an artistic background designed and constructed by members and pledges. Several one-acts and studio plays were given, all of which were enthusiastically viewed by Central students.

The Young Women's Christian Association of Central State Teachers College is a branch of the national organization and is a participant in the World Christian Student Federation.

The Central Y. W. C. A. has endeavored this year to exert a real influence in the lives of its members, thus upholding the three-fold purpose as symbolized by the blue triangle—the development of spirit, mind, and body.

The student directory is prepared and published each year by the Y. W. C. A. This activity makes the organization self-supporting and adds to the loan fund which it maintains for the benefits of girls wishing to attend college.

The Industrial Arts Club was organized this year by students in the Industrial Arts Department. The purpose of this group is to promote a program of study and handicraft of subjects not regularly scheduled in their course of study.

The meetings are divided alternately between lectures and handicraft work. The lectures are to be given by students, men in trade industry, men in industrial education, and men in vocational education.

When the objective is reached the students will conduct better extra-curricular activities.

The Central State Teachers College League of Young Democrats was founded in 1931-1932 as a chapter of the state organization. Established upon the principle of promoting the cause of Democracy by furthering patriotic interest in government and governmental activities, training our youth for the leadership of their nation, and giving unpartisan support to the functions of the Democrat Party, this chapter has grown into one of the foremost organizations in our state.

Evidence of the good standing of this chapter is shown in the various honors which its different members have obtained. In '33, Lee Kilgore served as Secretary of the Fifth District, and Walton Allen as State College Secretary; '34 Walton Allen, Secretary of the Fifth District; '35, Frank Lill, Secretary of the Fifth District; and '36, Mary Belle Franks, State College Secretary, and Frank Lill, Secretary of Fifth District. Never since this chapter entered into the field of politics has it been off of the band wagon after the votes at the state convention were counted, and credit for this achievement is to be credited to our good pilot, Dr. Emma Estill-Harbour.

Adding to the tradition of the Young Democrats is a gavel which has been the means of keeping order in many fiery conventions in Canada and the United States. This cherished article, which is presented as a gift to the newly elected executive each year, has been in the possession of Fred Godfrey, Lee Evans, Lee Kilgore, Frank Lill, Mary Belle Franks, and Frank Lill, respectively.

Clubs

The purpose of the various student organizations at Central State Teachers College is to give the student a well rounded program of various activities, so selected that all students may have the opportunity not only of belonging to the organization of his choice but also to take part in its programs.

These organizations may be divided into four groups; The Christian organizations for devotional and social purposes; The Departmental Clubs stimulate interest in the subject in which the student is majoring and give the student a chance to take part in discussions of the field of his particular interest; The activity clubs not only have worthwhile programs but take part in, and actively direct most of the various activities of the Campus. Central has no Social Fraternities or Sororities but has Chapters of the most outstanding honorary scholastic fraternities which foster and encourage higher scholarship for the entire student body.

The various clubs have had numerous meetings with worth while programs, many have had some of the best speakers and scholars of the state appear on their programs; during the past year. The social program has been varied and has been participated in by most all of the student body.

Football Review

The Broncho Gridmen opened their 1936 season by defeating the Emporia Teachers at Kansas by a score of 6 to 0. The starting lineup for the first game was as follows: Presley and Barnard, ends; Thompson and Giles, tackles; Captain Miller and Atkins, guards; Schellstede, center; Silks and Bartlett at half-backs; Purcell at full; and Jacobson at quarter-back. Outstanding for the Bronchos was Tip Jacobson, who in addition to kicking, passing, and blocking excellently, called his place election near letter perfect. Barnard was on the receiving end of a number of active passes from Jacobson and scored on a long pass for the lone touchdown of the game. A hard charging line paced by Captain Miller, Giles, Presley, and Thompson did much to prevent the hornets scoring.

The following week, October 3, the Bronchos journeyed to Tulsa to try and repeat their 9 to 0 upset of the vaunted Golden Hurricane in 1936, but were unequal to the task and came out on the short end of the 40 to 7 score.

October 9 on the Home field the Galloping Bronchos trampled their first conference foe the Northwestern Rangers 18 to 0 in an Oklahoma Collegiate Conference game. After several drives had bogged down, Tip Jacobson, quarterback, plugged over for the first counter in the second period. In the fourth period, Silks plunged over from the two yard line and later Creighton climaxed ten consecutive Broncho plunges from the Northwestern forty-one yard stripe with a touchdown. Outstanding in the front line were Barnard, Giles, Atkins, Dillman, Hogan, and Captain Miller. On the following Thursday night, October 15, the Bronchos paced with the deadly passing of Tip Jacobson down their greatest rivals the O. C. U. Goldbugs on the Goldbug field, by the score of 19-0. The game was characterized by a hard fighting Broncho front line and hard running backs. Outstanding in the backfield were Jacobson, Creighton, Tyner, Blackburn, and Bartlett, all of whom alternated at slashing off long gains through a stubborn Goldbug line. Of the seven passes attempted by Jacobson, six were completed and the seventh just slipped from Hap Barnard's fingers. Barnard was on the receiving end of five of the six passes and led the way to the first touchdown by pulling down a thirty-seven yard heave from Jacobson.

On October 23, the Bronchos continued their rampaging to win over the Oklahoma Baptist University Bisons. Again the outstanding passing of Jacobson and the great work of the line were the deciding factors. On the following Saturday, October 31, the Bronchos downed another traditional rival, the Southwestern Bulldogs in a Homecoming Game at Weatherford. The final score of 21 to 6 shows the consistent functioning of Coach Reed's machine. Passing or snatching off tackle or around end with equal consistency, Tyner, Sanders, Creighton, and Bartlett were outstanding in this game.

Continuing their successful drive toward another championship the Bronchos passed and smashed their way through the Northeastern Redmen for a 21 to 0 victory. Then, with equal ease downed the Southeastern Savages by a score of 29 to 7 on the following Saturday. After a week's rest the Bronchos completely dominated the East Central Tigers in a turkey day game at Ada for a 20-6 victory.

Thus the Central Broncho Gridmen completed a most impressive season with an undefeated conference record and another collegiate conference championship for Central State Teachers. In the annual selection of all conference men, Jacobson, Barnard, Atkins, Giles, and Blackburn placed on the first all conference team. Bill Giles received special recognition, the most outstanding honor ever bestowed upon a Broncho gridman. Giles was placed at tackle upon the first All American team.

Wrestling Review

The 1936 wrestling season opened with six lettermen back headed by Captain Glen King. The other lettermen were Anderson, Wright, Barnett, Powell and Ed. Foster. The first match was against Northeastern at Tahlequah with the Bronchos winning by the overwhelming score 34-0. The next match the Bronchos invaded the Aggie, losing by a score of $15\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$. The following week the Central grapplers went to O. U. and soundly trounced the Sooners, the final score standing 18-11. On February 2 the team performed at home against the Northeastern Teachers, winning by the score of 29-5. On February 12 the Bronchos invaded Kansas and beat the Manhattan Teachers 15-11. The team followed this up by again trouncing the Sooners before an enthusiastic crowd, the final score being 15-9. The Bronchos came out on the short end of the score in both their following matches, their opponents being A. & M. and Southwestern teachers and the scores in that order stood $18\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ and 14 to 12. The team was greatly handicapped, however, during these two matches by influenza and injuries and were far from top form.

At the National meet at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, Ted Anderson and Chilli Villa each went to the finals. Chilli Villa Real led all Oklahoma scores and received the Sam Avey all around medal for the leading state wrestler. As a whole Coach Gene Smith enjoyed a successful season and may be commended upon his first year's work.

Basketball Review

Collegiate Conference Basketball Champions for the first time in twenty-one years, the Broncho Cagers suffered only one conference loss in a near perfect schedule of twenty-three games thus ringing down the curtain on the greatest season in Broncho cage history.

The only conference team able to defeat the Bronchos was Southwestern State Teachers' College at Weatherford who narrowly came out ahead with a score of 36-34 for the only conference loss in fourteen conference starts. Central however turned the tables on Southwestern when the Bronchos journeyed to Weatherford and came out on the long end of a 26 to 27 score.

Beginning the conference with only hopes for a third or fourth place the Central aggregation surprised not only the other teams but themselves as well—handing Central State Teachers their first basketball championship since 1915.

The championship squad was composed of Jacobson, Presley, Thurman and Tyner, guards; Jones, Delaporte, Sanders and Barnard at forwards; Giles, Anderson, Hogan and Sears at center. Three graduating seniors will be lost to the squad next year, Jacobson, Anderson and Hogan.

As a reward for their efficiency, sportsmanship, and skill, the team was awarded gold basketballs and a trip to Denver, Colorado, to the National Amateur Athletic Union tourney, March 14-20.

Jacobson, captain and guard, and Delaporte at forward, were named on the annual all-conference team selection.

Central's Tennis Squad has faired exceptionally well during the past two seasons, having won the official state championship both years. During the seasons of 1934-35 and 1935-36 the Broncho Net Team under the coaching of Odus Morgan, have defeated both Oklahoma University and Oklahoma A. & M. College, as well as downing all of the teachers' colleges in the state.

In defeating Baylor University recently in the first dual match of the 1937 season, the Bronchos brought the consecutive victories to forty-two on Oklahoma soil.

The Central team has defeated every Middle Western team of importance each year with the exception of the strong Longhorns from the University of Texas. The Bronze and Blue colors have been waving victorious over Kansas State, Wichita University, Baylor University, St. Mary's University, Lindsburg University, Oklahoma University, Oklahoma A. & M. College, the Great Plains Tournament, Sam Houston Teachers, Denton Teachers, Oklahoma City University, and all of the teachers colleges of Oklahoma during the past three years. Leading the parade this year are Tommy Higgins and Hubert Manire of Oklahoma City, and Captain Bill Hall of Edmond.

Central Lettermen's Club

This club was organized in the winter of 1922, the membership consisting of all men who had earned a letter in any sport at this college. The membership of the club now dates to include the lettermen of 1899 teams and has some of the first athletes of the state as members. Since the first letter was earned at Central some five hundred men have earned letters, and all have accepted the membership initiation which is necessary before a man may receive a letter and become a member of the club.

The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is, in part, set forth in the preamble to the constitution, which follows: To perfect an organization, the membership which is perpetuated from year to year; to create a better spirit of cooperation among athletes; to induce young athletes to come to Central; and to regulate the conduct of the athletes in school. This club very readily accomplishes these things.

As a means of inducing young athletes to come to Central, the Lettermen's Club holds an annual invitation basketball tournament for all high schools whose teams are coached by a Central man of whose superintendent is a Central man. Under the auspices of the Lettermen's Club, this annual tournament has grown to be one of the largest tournaments of its kind in the southwest.

The club holds an annual steak fry in connection with a dance and general frolic, which is the big event of the social year for the athletes.

At this time, there are over fifty names on the active roll of the club, making it the largest club on the campus. There are meetings on the second and fourth Tuesday nights of each month, at which time the business of the hour is discussed and taken care of.

The strength and importance of this club may well be brought home when it is understood that some of the best and most sought after coaches in the state are members of the organization.

Women's Athletic Association

The purpose of the W. A. A. is to further interest in the athletic activities and to extend good sportsmanship among the women of Central. The officers for the school year 1936-1937 are Virginia Young, president; Frankie Jacobson, vice-president, and Texas Miller, secretary and treasurer.

The W. A. A. sweater and monogram are awarded upon the completion of eight-hundred points won by any girl in good standing. Girls may win points in intramural games such as: Hockey, volleyball, tenniquoits, basketball and baseball. Points may also be won in the following additional sports: Archery, tennis, swimming, track and hiking.

An honorary varsity of Central girls played a team from Oklahoma A .& M. at the close of the hockey season this year. Later this spring there will be a baseball game between the two teams, played on the Central field.

The W. A. A. will elect nine all-around athletes to represent Central at the State Play Day which will be held at Northwestern Teachers College, Alva, Oklahoma, in April, 1937.

A spring swimming meet will be held, with teams representing the freshmen, sophomores, junior and senior classes. An honorary swimming varsity will be chosen from among the winners.

The Orchesis, a national organization for the study of the dance, has been organized at Central this year. Eleven girls were chosen by try-outs to become charter members of the club. Those chosen were: Nadine Strickland, Frankie Jacobson, Virginia Young, Texas Miller, Martha Nell Hitchcock, Elouise McGuire, Virginia Cunningham, Mary Dowling, Maurine McReynolds, Elizabeth Costello and Ruth Johnston. The Orchesis is under the direction of Miss Marjorie Muehl.

The interesting activities of the W. A. A. include the presentation of the annual circus in Wantland Hall, which is one of the outstanding hits of the school year, and the manless parties, dances and hikes.

Any girl who has won a total of fifteen-hundred points is awarded the Central "C" and for every additional year of service an honor stripe is awarded. Any W. A. A. girl who has won one-hundred points is privileged to wear the W. A. A. pin.

The Tuskahoma Club, one of the outstanding Clubs at Central is made up of students of Indian descent. Numerous tribes of Oklahoma Indians are represented in this Club. This Club is a Feature attraction at Central and has performed during this year for Oklahoma 89'ers Club, The American Association of University Women, The Daughters of the American Revolution in Oklahoma City, and various other organizations. Dr. Emma Estill Harbour is the sponsor of the club.

Directly in front of Central's Administration Building, during the Christmas season, for the first time, was a representation of the Manger scene at the birth of the Child Jesus. Grouped about him there were life-size figures of Mary, Joseph, and the Three Wise Men. Realistic as it was in the daytime, an effective arrangement of flood and spotlights made this first Christmas scene even more beautiful at night.

The excellent work of the Art Department and the Industrial Arts Department was responsible for the vivid reproduction of the Manger. At the head of the Art Department in this work were Dale McKinney and Anita Howard who did the painting.

Debate 1936-1937

HUGH N. COMFORT. Coach

The debate season opened October 12, with a series of intra-mural practice debates. On November 23, Bop Capshaw and Lee Murphy, Anthony Webster and LaRue Newman, and Monita Maxwell and Evelyn Dieball, went to Norman for non-decision debates with the University of Oklahoma squad.

On December 4, Webster and Newman, Ollie Cearley and James Bigbee, Presley Brown and Quentin Garman, Maxwell and Dieball, Capshaw and Murphy, with Dean Meagher and the coach, participated in the first and largest tournament of the year at Winfield, Kansas. Reed placed first and Dieball, second in the women's division of extemporaneous speaking, and Murphy ranked third in the men's division. Capshaw and Murphy were second in a debate bracket of seventy teams.

The following week-end, Capshaw and Murphy, and Brown and Garman, went to the quarter finals in the Chickasha tournament.

On December 16, Capshaw and Murphy debated Wayne Musser and Paul Cummings from O. U. in the annual Chapel debate here at Central.

The Baylor tournament at Waco, Texas, January 15, proved to be one of the most interesting to Murphy and Newman, Maxwell and Dieball, Reed, and the coach.

Reed placed second in the women's extemporaneous speaking and poetry reading, and Murphy won second in men's poetry reading.

On January 29, Walter Creason and Cearley went through the first preliminaries, and Newman and Webster through the second preliminaries, in the Tahlequah tournament.

Capshaw and Murphy placed second in debate in the tournament at Abilene, Texas, on February 6. Murphy also placed third in extemporaneous speaking and Capshaw second in the radio contest.

Professor Edward E. Keso accompanied Dieball and Reed, and Capshaw and Murphy, to the Mid-South meet at Conway, Arkansas, on February 6. The men went to the quarter-finals.

LEE MURPHY

BOB CAPSHAW

On February 23, Dieball and Reed met a touring debate team from Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kansas, here at Central in a non-decision debate. The next day, Garman and Murphy met Tulsa University before the Cushing High School assembly. On February 27, Webster and Newman were guests of the debate squad at Bethany Peniel College for dual debates. Newman was ranked as best individual speaker.

On March 4 and 5, Dieball and Reed went to the semi-finals, and Capshaw and Murphy, Newman and Webster, to the quarter-finals, in the second largest tournament of the year at Durant. Reed placed second in women's extemporaneous and Capshaw, third in after-dinner speaking.

Murphy placed second in the State Intercollegiate Peace Oratorical Contest held in Norman, March 10. Bigbee won the preliminary oratorical contest sponsored by the Anti-Saloon League of Oklahoma on the campus, March 9.

Capshaw and Murphy placed first in debate, Newman and Webster were eliminated, and Garman won first in after-dinner speaking in the Oklahoma Quadrangular Debate League tournament at Shawnee, March 20.

In the Provincial Pi Kappa Delta tournament at Ada, April 2 and 3, Dieball and Reed placed first in women's debate. Reed carried away the highest honors in after-dinner speaking and women's extemporaneous. Second places in extemporaneous speaking went to Murphy in the men's division and Dieball in the women's division. Capshaw won second in after-dinner speaking, Mae Lewis, third in women's oratory, and Lee Murphy ranked first in oratory for men.

The Central squad members have, during the past season, participated in 53 non-decision and 128 decision debates, of which 83 were favorable, making a total of 181 debates.

TRIUMVIRATE TEA

The Triumvirate club's entertainment of the 36-37 school year was a tea given for a group of rushees Sunday, September 13, at 305 East First. The beautiful tea table was presided over by alumnae members of the club. Red, white, and blue flowers and favors depicted the club colors.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTIONS

President and Mrs. Moseley very graciously entertained the student body of Central State Teachers College, Tuesday evening, September 15, at a lawn party in the pergola just east of their home. On Tuesday evening, September 22, they entertained the faculty members in their home on the campus.

CRITERION PARTY

Silver and old rose was the color scheme carried out at the Criterion Club rush party at Doyel's Drug Store, Saturday evening, September 19, from eight to ten o'clock. Forty guests were entertained at cards. The tables were spread with decorative checked cloths with matching napkins, while streamers of old rose and silver crepe made the entrance into the reserved space of entertainment. Hot chocolate and shortbread cakes were served after the club members had presented each guest to the group.

SHAKESPEARE PARTIES

The home of Mrs. Henry S. Johnson, 101 East Hurd, was the scene of the lovely tea given by the Shakespeare Club, Sunday, September 20. This event was followed by a line party to "The Gorgeous Hussy" on Thursday evening, September 24.

LATIN CLUB PARTY

On September 21, the Latin Club of Central honored Miss Jessie D. Newby with a farewell tea at one o'clock in the Dean of Women's reception room. Miss Newby is leaving for Iowa University where she will continue her work on her doctor's degree.

SHAKESPEARE BUFFET SUPPER

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Miss Helen Hiatt, September 25, when the members of the Shakespeare club entertained their rushees with a buffet supper. The dinner was served strictly buffet style and the guests served themselves from a table on which was arranged in formation the Broncho eleven made from bronze and blue gum drops. The girls were presented miniature bronze footballs as favors.

CRITERION TEA

Appointments were carried out in silver at the Silver Jubilee Tea sponsored by the Criterion club at the home of the club president, Miss Margaret Halley, Sunday afternoon, September 27, from three to five o'clock. This was the final rush party planned by the club before bids were given to the tentative members.

TSA MO GA PICNIC

The Tsa Mo Ga club enjoyed a hamburger picnic at Devil's Den south of Edmond, Thursday evening, October 1.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA RECEPTION

An interesting event of Thursday, October 1, was the reception given by the Alpha Phi Sigma Society to the valedictorians and the salutatorians who are now enrolled in school. The guests were introduced to the receiving line by Glenn Overman.

TAU THETA KAPPA TEA

A rush tea was given by the Tau Theta Kappa Club at the home of Miss Georgia Ewing, 315 North Boulevard, Sunday, October 4, from three to five o'clock. Miss Ruth Coyner, sponsor of the club, presided at the tea table, assisted by Miss Grace Thee and Miss Georgia Ewing. The tea table and room were effectively decorated in green and white with red roses for emphasis.

FRESHMAN PARTY

TRIUMVIRATE DUTCH SUPPER

One of the most clever entertainments of the year was a hot dog supper given by the pledges to the members of the First Triumvirate club Thursday, October 8, at six o'clock. The supper was given at the apartment of Miss Opal Gregg and Miss Lou Ferguson, 216 North Boulevard.

Gay decorations carried out the idea of the Centennial. Drapes of red, white, and blue crepe paper hung from the ceilings and many dozens of multi-colored balloons floated among the folds. A large hot dog stand occupied one end of the room where the guests were served.

LASSO-STIRRUP PARTY

The popular Lasso-Stirrup's semi-annual Leap Year Dance was given Saturday night, October 10, in the college gymnasium at eight o'clock.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA BANQUET

The Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma held its initiation Tuesday evening, October 20, at six o'clock in Dean Meagher's reception room. Immediately following the initiation, the new members were honored with a banquet at the Methodist church. The table decorations, favors, and programs carried out the colors of Bronze and Blue.

SENATE-TRIUMVIRATE BOX SUPPER

The Senate-Triumvirate Box Supper was one of the most unique affairs of the school year. The affair was held in Pioneer Hall at 8:10 o'clock, Monday evening, October 26. Everyone enjoyed the old-fashioned program which had been so well prepared.

SIGMA TAU DELTA INITIATION

Carrying out the Homecoming motif in their semi-annual initiation ceremony and banquet, the local Chi Gamma chapter of Sigma Tau Delta initiated seven new members and pledged five others Friday night, November 6.

HOMECOMING TEAS

The Shakespeare Homecoming Tea was held in the home of Mary Louise Adamson, 230 East Main, on Saturday afternoon, November 7, after the game.

The Edmond chapter of the Criterion alumni held an Open House for all new and old members of the Criterion club at the home of Mrs. T. R. McPheeters at 316 East Fifth, immediately after the game.

The First Triumvirate club entertained the alumnae members with a chili supper Saturday evening, at six o'clock in the Home Economics dining room.

PARTY FOR PLAY CAST

The cast of "Your Uncle Dudley" and others who assisted in the production were guests in the home of Miss Alice Virginia Devereaux Saturday night, November 14, at a bridge and dance.

PRESIDENT'S DINNER

President and Mrs. John O. Moseley entertained twenty-four guests at dinner Wednesday evening, November 18, preceding the presentation of the Russian quartette ensemble at the college auditorium. The dinner was served buffet fashion from the dining table which had as a center-piece a lovely bouquet of Talisman roses, flanked by ivory tapers.

CIRCUS!!!

THE ANNUAL ADAM HINDPAW BARNDOR & BAILHAY CIRCUS WAS HELD IN WANTLAND HALL THURSDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 19.

COMMERCE PARTY

Professor Earl Clevenger entertained twenty-one guests in his home Friday night, November 20. They were seniors who are majoring in the field of commerce. The evening was spent in playing games and in testing one another with brain twizzlers.

ARENA PARTY

Good music and falling leaves marked the Thanksgiving dance, sponsored by the Arenas Saturday night, November 21, in Wantland Hall. A live turkey was given away during the evening. This foul caused as much notoriety as Wimpy's duck, and everyone enjoyed the party.

CRITERION RUSH PARTY

The Criterion Club had a rushee party at the College Shop, Monday night, November 23, after which they attended the student music recital and French play which was produced by the French club of Oklahoma University, in Mitchell Hall. Members and guests were present.

TAU THETA KAPPA TEA

The Tau Theta Kappa club entertained its members and pledges with a tea, Monday night, November 23, in the Dean of Women's reception room. After the tea the group attended the music recital and French play in Mitchell Hall.

SHAKESPEARE PLAY

The Shakespeare Club of Central State Teachers College presented "The Comedy of Errors," in two acts, Tuesday evening, December 1. The University Forum sponsored another show at the Biltmore Hotel in Oklahoma City on December 3.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

President and Mrs. John O. Moseley received members of the Sigma Tau Delta and special guests at a reception given December 5 for Joseph Auslander and Audrey Wurdemann, following their lecture. Music was furnished by the string trio of the college, composed of Mary Jo Reed, Kenneth Smith, Guilford Moutray, and Juanita McConnell.

SHAKESPEARE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Shakespeare club members entertained with their annual Christmas dinner party Monday evening, December 7, in Mrs. Binion's room in Old North Tower.

The tables were decorated with silver pine cones, leaves, and red tapers. The windows were also banked with pine cones and tapers. Small vases wrapped in red cellophane were given as favors.

BAND PARTY

Members of the Central band and their guests held a Christmas party Friday night, December 11, in Pioneer Hall. Miss Berenice Gecks was hostess and Ed Coffee was host. The evening was spent in playing bridge, dominoes, and in dancing.

CRITERION SNOWBALL

The Criterions held their annual Snowball Party in Wantland Hall on December 12. Alice Virginia Devereaux was crowned the Snowball queen. The gym was effectively decorated with igloos, Northern Lights, icicles, and stars. As usual, the affair was beautiful and enjoyable.

SHAKESPEARE PARTY

SENIOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Doctors Emma Estill-Harbour and Fred McCarrel were host and hostess to the Senior Class on Tuesday night, December 15, when the annual Christmas party was held in Pioneer Hall.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Thursday evening, December 17, the Edmond Chamber of Commerce honored the Collegiate conference champion football squad of Central with a banquet in the Methodist Church.

GLEE CLUB PARTY

Members of the girls' glee club gathered on the evening of January 14, at Professor West's cottage and went in a body to the Broncho Theater. This line party was for the members of the club only and the girls spent a lovely evening.

ALL SCHOOL PARTY

The residents of Thatcher and Murdaugh Halls were hosts at an all-school Valentine party Friday night, February 12.

The Hall was gaily decorated in red and white, while favors of hearts and arrows were given to the guests.

THATCHER HALL HOUSEWARMING

Lighting the fire in the large wood fireplace was the feature event when the boys of Thatcher Hall gave their Housewarming, Friday evening, February 19. Each boy took a part in this event as he brought a piece of wood to place on the fire.

ARENA ALL SCHOOL PARTY

Climaxing a full week of activity, the Arenas sponsored an all-school party in Murdaugh Hall, Saturday night, February 27. "Red" Watkins and his band furnished the music for the occasion.

ALL SCHOOL PARTY

Claude Reeds' triumphant caging crew, champions of the Oklahoma Collegiate conference, was honored at a celebration in Murdaugh Hall, Saturday night, March 6.

LASSO STIRRUP LEAP YEAR PARTY

The Lassos gave another of their memorable All-School parties in the form of a girls' tag in Murdaugh Hall Friday night, March 12.

SHAKESPEARE—ARENA

The Shakespeare Club favored their brother club, the Arena, Friday night, March 19, with a spring party in Murdaugh Hall, at which there was music, laughter, and dancing.

ARENA BARN DANCE

Terminating a busy week of social activities, the Arenas again successfully sponsored their annual apron and overall party in Wantland Hall Saturday night, April 3.

The interest shown by the lads and lassies at this affair, proves that country life still has its appeal.

CRITERION BENEFIT BRIDGE

An old fashioned get-together was held Saturday, April 3, in the Edmond Community Hall from two to five o'clock, for the purpose of giving the mothers, daughters, and girls of the campus a better opportunity to know each other.

FACULTY TEA

The girls of Murdaugh Hall entertained the members of Central's faculty with a formal tea in their beautiful drawing room Sunday afternoon, April 4, from three to five in the afternoon.

OPERA

Professor J. Forrest West scored again with his brilliant production of Gilbert Sullivan's "The Gondoliers," Thursday and Friday nights, April 22-23.

SIGMA TAU DELTA RECITAL

Members of Central's literary club read their poems and other original compositions in their recital Monday night, May 10.

SHAKESPEARE FORMAL

Drawing the social events of the school year of 1936-37 to a close, the Shakespeare Club gave its annual spring formal in Murdaugh Hall, May 15.

The beautiful Ballroom was decorated with green foliage, pink roses, and pink and green colored streamers.

The Hall was a gala scene crowded with the cool, filmy, pastel tinted organdies and chiffons, accompanied by semi-formal attire of the gentlemen, as the guests danced to the strains of the orchestra or loitered around the refreshment table.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION TO SENIORS

The Junior and Senior classes were honored May 25 with a reception given them by the faculty of Central. Each Senior and Junior has looked forward to this affair for years and everyone appreciated the lovely party.

Who's Who In Central

Beauty Queen and Attendants

It is true that Central wins football championships, paces the conference field in basketball, stands as a peer in tennis, and carries away the major part of the honors in debate, oratory and dramatics, but in no category has she gained more renown than that brought to her by the beautiful and winsome maidens that make up her student body. In proof of this statement we submit those chosen as the Bronze Book Queen and the outstanding beauties of the 1936-1937 year. Petite blonde, Margaret (Patsy) O'Shea, musician and honor student was chosen Queen. Charming Imogene Bateman, a decided brunette, and also an honor student with fun-loving Doral Stone, a red-head, and popular Texas Miller, also a brunette, and outstanding physical education major, were chosen as attendants to the Queen.

Who's Who in the Faculty

The faculty "took a shot" at choosing a "Who's Who" of the Student Body. You may not have agreed with them in all respects, neither did we—so the Bronze Book sponsored an election and by popular vote of the student body, elected those whom they considered ranking faculty members. We aren't hard to please or hyper-critical—we are however, (the grades are not in on this day of going to press) still maintaining that this list may or may not, be your choice or ours, but the student body, like the customer, must be right, and it has decided that the faculty members listed below are their choice.

Professor Edward E. Keso is a native Missourian, B. S., Central, Missouri State Teachers College, M.A. George Peabody College, a graduate student University of Oklahoma, Candidate for Ph.D., George Peabody College 1937. Professor Keso had had wide experience as a teacher in the schools of Missouri and in the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. Professor Keso came to Central as associate Professor in History and Geography in 1929. He is supervisor of Clubs, a position that he has held since 1930.

Professor Keso is married, has two children, Shirley Ann and Larson Russel, he is a Presbyterian, a Mason, a member of Phi Sigma Pi; Pi Kappa Delta; Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Delta Kappa, Phi Gamma Mu, Southwestern Science Association, The National Geographic Society and has been invited to fellowship in the American Geographical Society. His hobby is studying conservation of natural resources. Mr. Keso is a cultured gentleman, an excellent instructor and deservedly popular among the student body.

Miss Leita Davis, A.B. University of Michigan, M.A. University of Pennsylvania, Graduate student Columbia University and University of Colorado—came to Central in 1922 after successful teaching experience in the schools of Oklahoma and Kansas. Miss Davis is in the History department and her popularity can be judged by the size of her classes (you think it's a snap course until you take an examination and get your grades). Miss Davis is President of the Edmond branch of the American Association of University Women, Treasurer-elect of American Association of University Women, Oklahoma Division, Fellow American Geographical Society, Member Economic History Society of England and Junior class adviser. Miss Davis's interests, outside of Sociology are cooking and camping near her summer home in Nederland, Colorado.

Dr. Fred McCarrel came to Central as a student during the school year 1902-1903. Of the thirty-four intervening years he has spent twenty-four years, all or in part at Central as teacher and student. Dr. McCarrel attended the pioneer rural schools of Oklahoma and at the age of 23, did his first high school work. He has three University degrees and has credit for five years of University work. Dr. McCarrel is one of the few Oklahoma men with a Doctors' degree in Elementary Education. His hobbies are books, chess, and the Senior class. He is also interested in Oklahoma History, folklore and Indians, Numerology, Horoscopes, and Fortune Telling (from a purely and scientific and psychological view-point—he says).

Dr. Emma Estill Harbour, came to Central in the summer of 1912. She was the first graduate of Oklahoma College for Women, admits that that's a good school but thinks Central better—one of the oldest faculty members in point of service but one of the youngest in view-point and understanding. Dr. Harbour holds her M.A. degree from Oklahoma University and her Doctor's degree from the same institution and membership in countless honor societies and organizations. She is one of the advisers of the Senior class, sponsor of the Indian Club, Head of the Department of History and Social Science and Faculty adviser of the Bronze Book. She is a tireless worker and sees any job through and well done that she starts. Her hobbies are anything red, and Billie, the Boston bull dog, her constant companion.

Dean Cliff R. Otto, Head of the Science Department, came to Central in the fall of 1919 and taught the first real college classes offered in the institution in Chemistry, Zoology, Botany, Physiology, Hygiene, Heredity and Eugenics. He has attempted to build a science department for which the students and institution need not apologize. Professor Otto is a graduate of the Southwestern Teachers College at Weatherford and holds B.A. and M.S. degrees from the University of Oklahoma as well as membership in numerous honor societies and organizations. Professor Otto's hobbies are the Edmond Kiwanis Club, of which he is Secretary. The Edmond Chamber of Commerce of which he is a member of the board. The Order of Rainbow for Girls, chairman of the Advisory Board, Oklahoma Tuberculosis Society, College Athletic Conference, and the Oklahoma academy of Science, in all of which he takes an active interest. Professor Otto does not apologize for having come from the "short-grass." He admits an ambition for tap dancing and playing an accordion and is one of our favorite teachers.

As we said—you might not agree with this selection of the student body but we must admit that they are all right, and that in addition to being teachers they are people, actively and loyally interested in us and our problems—outstanding not only for their teaching ability but for their work outside the class room, the City of Edmond and the entire state.

Marita B. Riggan and Frank Lill, Editors

MISS LEITA DAVIS

Miss Leita Davis, associate professor in the Department of History is President of the local chapter of American Association of University Women and Treasurer of the Oklahoma State Organization.

Miss Davis is very active in the local chapter and much of the success of the 1937 Convention, held in Edmond, was due to her efficient management. Miss Davis is one of the most popular members of the Faculty, is a member of the Discipline Committee and is Junior Class Adviser.

Lloyd "Bob" Trogon—because he is the "most high prexy" of the 1937 Senior Class, because he is captain of the baseball team and a member of the Letterman's Club, because he is a singing red-head, president of the glee club and active in chorus, because he is vice-president of Spurs and Arenaman, because he is Edmond's assistant fire chief.

Marita Riggan—because as co-editor she has ably directed the publication of the 1937 Bronze Book, because her pleasing personality has distinguished her as one of the best liked students on the campus, because she is a dependable member of the League of Young Democrats and Shakespeare Club.

Frank Lill—because he shares honors with Mrs. Riggan as co-editor of the Bronze Book, because he has greatly increased school spirit through his "Centralite," because he is a popular member of Arena and Spur Clubs, because of his work in "Your Uncle Dudley," "It Pays to Advertise," and the Blue Curtain Club.

Imogene Bateman—because she is a Bronze Book queen, because she belongs to Kappa Delta Pi, because she is one of Central's best typists, because she is a popular member of the Criterion Club, because she is a member of the Indian Club, because through her work in "It Pays to Advertise" she becomes Central's only Countess.

Mary Francis Murry—because she was a delegate to New Orleans from the Social Science Club, because she is corresponding secretary of the Shakespeare Club, because she is treasurer of Lasso, because she is a member of the Bronze Book staff, because she is one of the favorites in Central's social set.

WHO'S WHO

Alice Virginia Devereaux—because as Central's leading creative writer she produced the prize-winning short story at Commerce, Texas, was co-author of Central's folk play in the Cape Girardeau contest and president of Sigma Tau Delta, because of her impressive performance as the old woman in "Your Uncle Dudley," because she is co-feature editor of the Bronze Book, because she is vice-president of Criterion and Blue Curtain Players, because she is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, Lasso and League of Young Democrats.

Earl Presley—because he is an all-round athlete lettering in football, baseball and basketball, because he is an honor student, because he is Coach Reed's office assistant, because he is one of the friendliest boys on the campus, because he is a member of the Letterman's Club.

Virginia Cunningham—because she is one of Central's most versatile girl athletes, because she is one of Central's best swimmers, because she is a member of W. A. A., because she is a member of the Shakespeare Club, because she is a member of Blue Curtain Players, because she belongs to Sigma Tau Delta through her interest and ability in creative writing, because she is a Lasso.

Morey "Chili" Villa Real—because he is Central's favorite wrestler, because he gained state-wide recognition as high point collegiate wrestler, because he was undefeated in dual wrestling matches, because he went to the finals in the national collegiate wrestling tournament, because he is a member of the Letterman's Club, because he is probably the student best known on the campus.

Reta Ruth von Thurn—because she is a thorough scholar, because she is a gifted musician and president of the Music Club, because she is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, because she is a promising member of Sigma Tau Delta, because she is freshman leader of the Y.W.C.A., because she is a member of the Shakespeare Club and Lasso-Stirrups.

Dale McKinney — because he is Central's best art student and a member of the Art Club, because he is president of Thatcher Hall, because he is president of the Arena Club, because he is Art Editor of the Bronze Book this year, because he informed and amused us by his many clever posters this year, because as manager of Patsy O'Shea in the Queen contest, he sold the greatest number of Bronze Books.

Margaret O'Shea—because she is the 1937 Bronze Book Queen, because she is president of Alpha Phi Sigma, because she is secretary of both the Shakespeare Club and the Sophomore class, because she is Central's favorite accompanist, because her Irish blood makes her one of our "peppiest" Lasso's.

Glenn Overman — because his scholarship is so good that he rated both Alpha Phi Sigma and Kappa Delta Pi, because he is so talented in dramatics that he has played major roles in "The Youngest," "Mrs. Moonlight," "Waiting for Lefty," "The Boor" and "It Pays to Advertise," because his keen sense of humor qualified him for Humor Editor of the Bronze Book, because he is a member of Spurs, League of Young Democrats, Blue Curtain Players, and Commerce Club.

Roberta Thomas—because of the many debate honors she has won for Central, because she is president of Pi Kappa Delta, because she is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and a capable secretary for Alpha Phi Sigma, because she served as Treasurer of the Senior class and Secretary and Treasurer of League of Young Democrats, because she is so dependable as assistant Registrar, because she is class editor of the Bronze Book and a member of Blue Curtain and Shakespeare.

Nadine Strickland — because she is our best known dancer and president of Orchestis, because she is an all around girl athlete and member of W.A.A., because she has organized a private school of dance, because she is a member of Blue Curtain, because she is a member of Lasso, League of Young Democrats, and Shakespeare Club.

IN CENTRAL

Wilma Allen—because she is a Criterion, because of her grand performance in "Your Uncle Dudley," because she is director of Edmond's Wesley Players, because she is a pleasant librarian, because she is a member of the Blue Curtain Players, because she is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, because she is loyal to Lasso.

Margaret Halley—because she was reader of the Sigma Tau Delta poems at Commerce, Texas, because she is a past president of Criterion, because she is active in Blue Curtain Players, because she was so good in "Your Uncle Dudley," because she writes such beautiful poetry, because she is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, because she is a Lasso.

Clifton "Tip" Jacobson—because he is a four letter athlete, because his stellar performance as basketball captain and football quarterback led Central to the Collegiate Conference Championship in both sports, because he was selected as all-state quarterback and all conference basketball squad member.

Helen Hiatt—because she is a past president of the Shakespeare Club, because she is a Les Chefettes, because she is secretary of Lasso-Stirrups, because she was a Bronze Book queen last year, because she is a charming hostess in Central's social set.

Fern Reed—because she is Central's best debater and extempore speaker, because she was so cute in "The Boor," because she belongs to Alpha Phi Sigma, because she is a Lasso, because she is president of Blue Curtain Players, because she is secretary-treasurer of Pi Kappa Delta, because of her grand performance in "Mrs. Moonlight," because she is a winner of the Gregory Debate Award.

Through the 1937 Bronze Book, we hope to portray the activities and events of the 1936-1937 School Year. We have striven to make this book representative of the College Life of these years and a memory book for future reference and enjoyment.

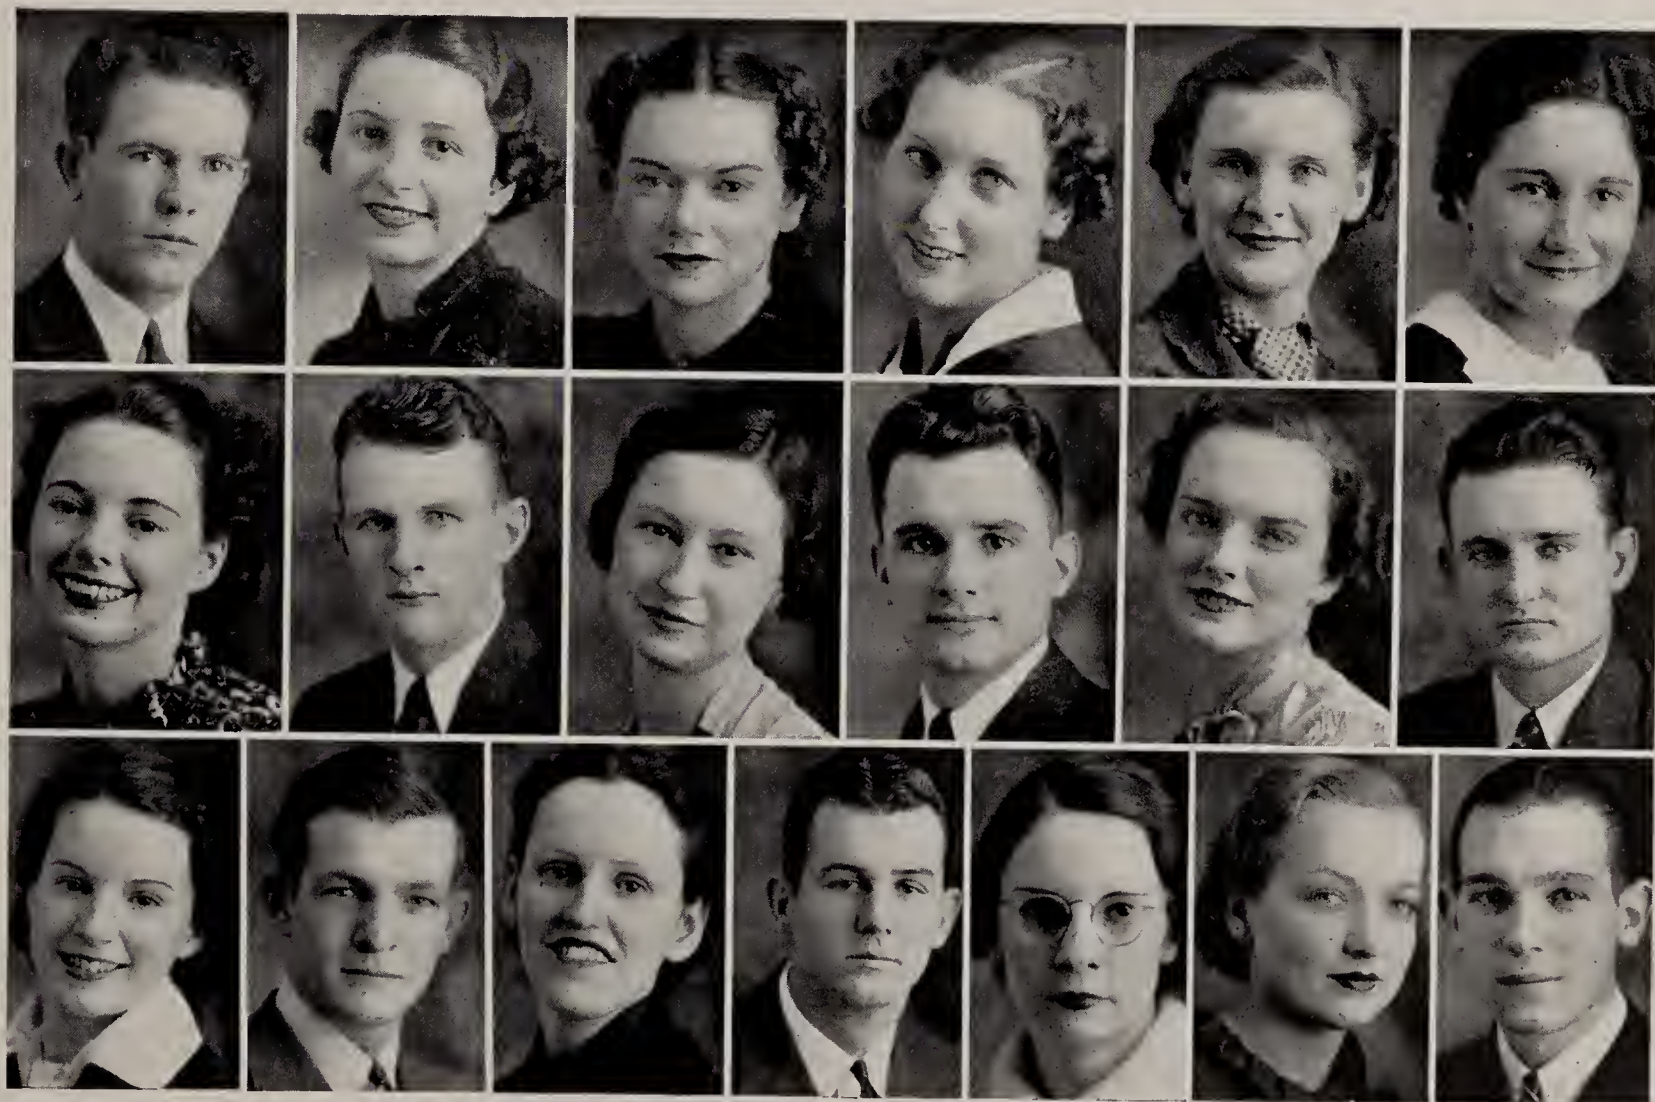

In order to accomplish this, we have been assisted and advised by all the members of the faculty and we are especially grateful to President Mosely for his co-operation in every way, to Professor Howell for his never-failing good humor in responding to our demands for pictures, to Dr. McCarrel for his kindly advice and criticism, to Mr. Bateman for his invaluable assistance to our Staff and Business Manager, to Miss Plunkett, who so ably assisted us in putting on our Carnival and especially to our Sponsor, Dr. Emma Eestill-Harbour, do we extend our most sincere thanks for her timely advice and criticism. We cannot fail to mention the many things, various members of the Staff have done to make this a representative book.

Thus—as the 1937 Bronze Book comes off the press, and all our troubles have turned into happy anticipation, we can only ask that you be “to our faults a little blind, and to our virtues, very kind.”

HUGHES B. DAVIS

Central has many graduates of whom she is proud but of all these, none is more outstanding than Hughes B. Davis, president of the class of 1913 and Business Manager of the first Bronze Book. In addition to being an outstanding student, Mr. Davis was an all-round athlete taking part in football, baseball, basketball and track. He was a member of the Lyceum Literary Society and the Senate Club.

After a successful teaching career in Oklahoma schools, Mr. Davis is now associated with a major oil company in a responsible position, and we are glad to "point with pride and to say that we knew him when——

The Vista

GRADY C. WATKINS

The Vista, a monthly periodical is edited and published by the journalism class, which is sponsored by Grady C. Watkins, of the English Department.

The primary appeal of the Vista, since it has been made a monthly publication is to the Alumni of Central, but it is also distributed to the student body.

Its columns advertise the coming attractions, tell of past events, and promote a general feeling of good will between the present student body and the Alumni.

For thirty-five years the Vista has constantly served the best interests of Central State Teachers College. Its files are rich in wit and philosophy and clearly chart the trend of thought on the day of publication.

LILL GETS HONOR OF YOUNG DEMOS

Frank Lill, popular and outstanding member of the senior class, was selected as member of the Constitution and By-Laws committees of the State League of Young Democrats, which served at the state convention in Tulsa, Monday, February 22.

The convention, which officially opened with a luncheon in the new Hotel Tulsa Monday, February 22, marked the 25th silver jubilee convention of the league. From all indications, the largest crowd in the history of the league attended the Tulsa party.

EDMOND HOST TO STATE CONCLAVE

The Edmond branch of the American University Women will be hosts to the state convention on April 2 and 3. This is the first time that the state meeting has been held in Edmond.

Representatives from forty branches from all sections of the state will take part in this convention.

Mrs. George Rowland, state president, is in constant communication with Miss Letta Davis, president of the local branch, to plan the program for the meeting.

Campus Beauties Race For Bronze Book Queenship

The girls were nominated this week at the regular assembly hour and the contest got under way with the selection of their managers.

The entrants, and the student leaders pushing the campaigns, are Patsy O'Shea of Mangum with Dale McKinney of Hollister, Imogene Bateman of Guthrie with Mitchell Allen of Tulsa, Lorene Varner of Oilton, with La Rue Newman of Oilton, Nadine Strickland of Shawnee with Tom Points of Edmond, Grace Haylovic of Greenfield with Dick Wilson of Oklahoma City, Elouise McGuire of Norman with Douglas Payne of Edmond, Doral Stone of Spencer with Preslie Brown of McAlester, Ruth Allen of Oklahoma City with Clarence Bartley of Edmond, Clothilde Stephens of Cooperton with Al Sears of Edmond, Texas Miller of Elk City with Marion Due of Grandfield, and Peggy Northcutt of Duncan with Bob Trogon of Anadarko.

The queen race this year is given added impetus since this is the Silver Anniversary edition of the yearbook. It is expected off the press about May 1 and will feature the winner of this contest.

Binion Is Assembly Speaker Wednesday

Mrs. Harriet Seay Binion of the Central training school will be the speaker on the assembly program Wednesday morning. She is the fifth of the faculty people to appear in lecture during the current year.

She is a graduate of Central and of the University of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Binion was born and reared in the atmosphere of the Old South growing up with "nigger tales as 'Cuah all' for all childish ills. In African Nights and Nigger Folklore she pictures scenes from the

Patsy O'Shea Wins In Close Queen Race

Miss Patsy O'Shea of Mangum, a junior at Central State Teachers' College, is the winner of the Bronze Book queen contest which ended Wednesday. Her campaign manager was Dale McKinney, senior from Hollister and president of the Arena Club.

Miss O'Shea is president of Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity, and is a member of Shakespeare and Lasso-Stirrup clubs. She is majoring in music at Central and has served as accompanist for the college glee clubs, chorus and the boys quartet.

Imogene Bateman of Guthrie ran a close second, Doral Stone of Spencer was third and Texas Miller of Elk City, fourth.

A new precedent was set since the whole campaign raged on in silence—as far as has been learned the managers were in the dark as to each others standing. In years past a secret hook selling campaign existed only in theory. Many protested the silence exclaiming that the clubs clip a few more coupons if the standings were announced daily—they may have been right, but business manager Harris reports this contest to be one of the most successful held in the past few years.

Peyote Brothers

We believe that Chief Leonard Chebahtah and Dr. Fred McCarrel are the only representatives of the Peyote cult who have ever been connected with Central. Chief Chebahtah, a full-blooded Comanche-Apache Indian, is the son of a famous Apache Medicine Man and grew up in the pagan faith of his people. Because of his interest in Indian religion Dr. McCarrel was invited to participate in the twelve hours service of a Kiowa Medicine Meeting. Because of this experience he is considered a member of the cult. Chebahtah is a member of the Senior Class and Dr. McCarrel is Professor of Education.

Faculty Public Lectures

Chapel Programs are a feature and an institution at Central. In 1935 Dr. Moseley, recognizing the talent and outstanding ability of his faculty instituted the series of faculty lectures.

Mr. Oakes in introducing Dr. Moseley, the first of the lectures in the 1936-1937 series said:

President Moseley is a Rhodes Scholar and a graduate of the Honour School of Jurisprudence of Oxford University, the principal study of which is Roman Law. For two years he studied Latin and Law as a graduate student in Stanford University. He has studied in the University of California and in Columbia University. He is national president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. As one of the nation's outstanding classical scholars, he delivered numerous addresses last year during the world-wide celebration of the two-thousandeth anniversary of the birth of Horace.

An important element in the Faculty Lecture series has been the clever and original introductions given the Lecturers by the Chairman of the Committee, Dean Johnson—apt and clever in his remarks, not always too complimentary—master of wit and sarcasm, surpassing in repartee, Dean Johnson says:

I have never been able to appear properly astonished at the speaker's achievements. They have always seemed to me inevitable consequences of her dynamic personality. Restless, aggressive, energetic, Dr. Harbour has always been a two-fisted fighter for what she has wanted. The destiny of such people is to accomplish, to go places. They go to war; they go to National Democratic Conventions.**

Study history if you wish, but—if I were you—I should study the teacher. I should try to discover her knack of getting things done, her knack of getting people to do things for her.**

There is no dearth of energetic people. Scholarship is not uncommon. But, when scholarship and energy are joined, then you have something. Dr. Harbour is this happy anomaly.**

The remarkable record made by students from Dean Otto's department in the graduate schools of the country and, in particular, in the School of Medicine of the University of Oklahoma constitutes, in my opinion, indisputable evidence of Dean Otto's ability as a teacher.**

Science has recently made tremendous advances. We need very much to have the implications of these advances interpreted for us by those, who like the speaker, speak our language. The speaker's subject, "Science and the Future of Man," is most timely**

Throughout my association with the speaker, the example of his poise and composure—I believe I shall use a sixty-cent word—of his imperturbability has exercised a restraining influence upon my own impatience and impulsiveness. He has an almost oriental gift of calmness**

Only those of us who have borrowed Professor McCarrel's books truly appreciate the scope and variety of his interests. He is an expert chess-player. He has written excellent poetry**

You will find this morning's lecture most interesting. I know that you have been intrigued by its alliterative title, Oklahoma's Passing Paganism. The speaker will portray for you the spectacle of a primitive people, the Plains Indians of Oklahoma, assimilating a superior culture. Alert to the passing scene, he has been aware of his opportunity to observe and to study the operation of this significant step in the forward movement of human progress. Most people perceive such opportunities when they have ceased to exist**

Those of you who have made collections—it doesn't really matter what you have collected: stamps: coins, butterflies, or what not—will at once appreciate what Mrs. Binion has been doing and will understand her enthusiasm for her work**

Mrs. Binion was a graduate student in the University of Oklahoma at the time the folklore movement was getting under way. Professor Botkin was one of those who encouraged Mrs. Binion to make a collection of the negro folk tales of her beloved Southland and to evaluate them on the basis of their suitability for children. Thus you see Mrs. Binion has been a pioneer in this field of scholarly endeavor. She has appeared on numerous occasions before groups interested in folklore.**

She has long since lost her amateur standing as a public lecturer. For her the making of an address is an opportunity to further the cause of Internationalism rather than an ordeal**

Although Professor Hampton's major interest is her teaching, her activity in behalf of Internationalism illustrates the value of having a hobby. How marvelous it must be to feel that one is expending one's energy and intelligence to further some really worth-while cause!**

DONALD GRANT

Mr. Donald Grant, of London, England, who lectures under the auspices of the Institute of International Education, New York, was at Central State Teachers College from March 18 until March 22. During his stay on the campus he lectured to the general assembly, to several special assemblies, and to many classes in History, English, and Foreign Languages.

Mr. Grant was born in the highlands of Scotland. He is a graduate of the University of Edinburgh where he majored in history and modern languages and where he took four years of theological training at New College.

During the post-war years from 1919 to 1933, he had lived and worked in France, Austria, the Balkans, and Russia, and has visited repeatedly most other European countries. He holds the Gold Medal, Honoris Causa, of the University of Vienna, and is Honorary Member of the Universities of Graz and of Innsbruck.

Mr. Grant is best known as one of the organizers of the International Student Relief, afterwards known as the International Student Service. He initiated and was the first editor of Vox Studentium, formerly the international student magazine of the I. S. S.

CAMPUS SCENE

They Also Serve

"They Also Serve," a one-act folk play by Alice Virginia Devereaux and J. Gerald Markley, was awarded third place in the play-writing division of the Mid-Western Folk Drama Tournament held annually at Cape Girardeau, Missouri. First prize in the production contest of the tournament went to the Blue Curtain Players for their presentation of "They Also Serve," with the following cast: Maurine McReynolds, Ralph Cole, Dale Mears, Gerald Markley, Clayton Bagwell, and Margaret Halley. The play was directed by Miss Lucille McGuire. Individual acting honors went to Maurine McReynolds, Ralph Cole, and Dale Mears.

"They Also Serve" is concerned with the destitute Tucker family living in a mean hovel on the Canadian river bank. The only child, a boy of ten, is suffering from a severe case of pneumonia, and the father is unable to get a doctor to attend him since he has no money.

Doc Andy, a queer old fellow who abandoned his practice when his wife died with pneumonia, lives in a miserable, one-room shanty by himself, away from the world in which he wrecked his life.

Henry Tucker, the father, goes up the river to persuade the old hermit doctor to treat his son. The flood has washed away Doc Andy's shack. Henry finds the doctor nearly drowned, and brings him to his own hut. Scarcely knowing what he does, the doctor decides to treat Toby when he learns that he has pneumonia.

The next morning the boy's condition is highly improved, and the doctor sees the years of brooding over his wife's death and the failure he made of his life work ending with a tangible vindication of his self-imposed guilt. At the moment when his triumph is most vivid, and he pictures years of service to humanity before him, the doctor succumbs to the effects of pneumonia contracted during the night as a result of his recent exposure. The physical strain together with the tax on his nerves is too great: his mind wanders off in a combined form of delirium and insanity.

We Appreciate Your Business

Business

The Oklahoma Natural Gas Company and its more than 600 employees are a source of business, important to everyone in Oklahoma.

Each year, the company spends over a million dollars in Oklahoma for purchases, salaries and taxes. This great sum enters the trading channels here at home to swell the business of local merchants.

The Oklahoma Natural Gas Company spends thousands of dollars on the maintenance of its gas lines to insure you of 100% service all year around!

Dear Dad:

I received the threat in your last letter that my extravagance must be curbed, merely because you aren't making expenses. Now don't you worry. You just go on with your work and I'll make expenses.

Love,

Financial Success

Financial Success is dependent upon the ability to save.

Food for the average American family requires the expenditure of from 25% to 40% of the gross income. Home Canning greatly reduces the amount of money spent for food—thus permitting the saving of a considerable sum of money.

The use of Kerr "Self-Sealing" Mason Jars increases this saving because they eliminate mold and spoilage.

Write to Kerr for complete information on canning by Pressure Cooker, Hot Water Bath, Oven and Open Kettle Methods.
